SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

A correspondent of the New York Times gives an exhaustive account of the condition of affairs in Mexico. He thinks the present insurrection will soon be put down.

It is a truth that in spite of the many disorders from which Mexico has suffered, there has always been in the minds of its people a stubborn love for a Republican form of government.

The New York Tribune alludes to "that brotherhood which we claim with the Mother Country." If the Tribune keeps on in that strain our foreign "relations" will soon be hopelessly involved.

The Memphis Avalanche (Dem.) thinks that General Frank Blair has not been very useful to the Democratic party; that "he undoubtedly regards it his mission to break up that party," and that if such blunderers as he are to control its action "the masses will hail any breaking for the better."

One of the oldest relics in the country is said to be in possession of the family of Mr. M. Watson, West Orange, Mass. It is an old oak chest, three and a half feet long, two feet wide, and two and a half deep. The family have refused to part with it for $200. It bears an inscription that the chest was brought to Plymouth in the ship Mayflower December 22, 1620, by Edward Winslow, afterward Governor of the Plymouth Colony.

The extinction of Polygamy in Utah is foredoomed by the President in his late message, in these words: "Neither polygamy nor any other violation of existing statutes will be permitted within the Territory of the United States. It is not with the religion of the self-styled Saints that we are now dealing, but their practices. They will be protected in the worship of God according to the dictates of their conscience, but they will not be permitted to violate laws under the cloak of religion."

The affidavit upon which ex-Comptroller Connolly, of New York, has been arrested, charge that he has conspired with Tweed and others in the division of $8,500,000 plundered from the city and deposited in the Tenth National Bank to the credit of E. A. Woodward, the Tammany swindler, who has disappeared and has escaped an arrest. Of the above amount 58 per cent. was traced to the other members of the gang, and it is surmised that the remaining 42 per cent. was shared between Connolly and Peter B. Sweeney.

SAYINGS AND SUGGESTIONS.

Jacob successfully watered Laban's stock.

The beautiful rain! Things are "normal" again.

The great unknown—people who do not advertise.

The champion reaper which secures the largest harvest—advertising.

How to ride rapidly down hill—get in the last stages of consumption.

Thirty Hindoos are said to be studying law in London. Well, who hinders 'em?

Seventeen Chicago sufferers have entered upon a new field—alas! the lecturing field.

The Japanese make a strong string of paper, and we have seen very good cord of wood.

It is stated in relation of Fiji cannibalism that only boys from 14 to 12 years old are eaten.

Slush last night made sidewalks and the gutters rather uncomfortable for those to whom gin is not putting the

A half column or so of spicy paragraphs in a paper is like a race course—a good thing to run over for amusement.

Agapius Honcharenko publishes the Alaska Herald, and sends it to Petersburg lake, the paper to see how the editor spells his name.

Of all countries Mexico comes nearest to Mr. Sampson Reed's description of the world—it "has its revolutions, and various games of that sort."

The decline of the whaling interest in Massachusetts seems likely to be followed by a total abandonment of the "sealing" business in Mormon-land.

Mr. Waldron knows all about Hamlet. Will he tell us who that Irishman was that Hamlet was talking to, when he said, "Now will I do it, pat, now he is praying?"

Singular to observe that those ladies in the "woman movement," who complain most loudly that women are kept in a condition of humiliation and servitude generally keep their own husbands, when they have any, in that very condition.

The statement regarding Grover's "passivity" is denied by his little organ in this city. An inoffensive denial. Democratic leaders are as uncertain just now as to Democratic principles. Since Senator Kelly has become a "passivist" who can be relied on? Passivity is contagious; it makes Democratic bones marrowless, and turns its victims over as a prey to dumb forgetfulness. Grover is in danger, if he is not already gone.

Insurance Matters.

The Coast Review, a San Francisco journal devoted to insurance matters, has a sharp article on the management of the Pacific Insurance Company. We quote the two concluding paragraphs:

Why did the Pacific sell out to the Liverpool and London and Globe? Was it because they could sell out cheap? It has been a strong advocate of "home institutions"—this was a favorite hobby. Now we ask, has it kept the faith? When it reorganizes, as we presume it will, does it intend to solicit patronage upon the same old plea again? We hope it will not be so inconsistent. Its officers have dragged it through a thorny road for a long time, and worn it out by degrees. Their course has been vacillating to such an extent as to be ridiculous ever since the Chicago fire. They have pulled it here, and driven it there—forward to-day and backward to-morrow, its verdict should be, "died by strangulation."

Since it has concluded to occupy the vacant grave left by the Ring, we would say to its old policy holders, Look to your interest. Where are our American companies who reinsure their defunct brothers? Do any of them ever survive the burial? Not one. This is the history of European concerns also, who buy up the unprofitable business of those who fail. Virginia City, Harpending Block, Chicago and Valparaiso—were they not the downfall of the Pacific. Have you any guarantee that the balance of the risks will not sink the London and Liverpool and Globe? We would advise you to learn what amount of risk the two companies have in San Francisco. If it is too large, withdraw your insurance and place it elsewhere.

A "Cow Clause" in Insurance Policies.

A chicago correspondent writes thus:

It is an undisputed fact that a kicking cow was the real cause of the Chicago fire; and it is credited the Limburg Company, with a spirit of enterprise and a foresightedness unparnatural, to have inserted hereafter in their applications the following interrogatories:

1st—Do you keep a cow?
2d—Is it a female cow?
3d—Is it a kicking cow?
4th—Is artificial light employed at milking?

We submit, says the Coast Review, this concentrated piece of novel professional caution to the underwriting interests of California, and especially that clique whose pet weaknesses are finely printed evasive clauses or conditions.

OREGON.

A steam flouring mill is to be built at Gervais next summer.

The Jacksonville Times receives gold nuggets taken from the neighboring mines for subscriptions.

Jesse Ward, an old citizen of Marion county, died at his residence south of Salem, on Wednesday. His age was 76.

A young lady who was married at Applegate in Southern Oregon on the 13th inst., became insane next day. Is it another "Bride of Lammermoor?"

The new Cornet Brass Band of Salem gave a ball at Reed's Opera House last (Friday) night. Their instruments cost $660, and they want to raise money to pay for them.

Peter Schmeidler, residing two miles from Jacksonville, died very suddenly one night last week. He had been thrown from a horse a few days before, but his injuries were not considered serious.

Two men aged respectively seventy and sixty-five years came into Jackson county from North Carolina last year, and by their own labor raised 1,600 bushels of wheat, 900 bushels of oats and 700 of corn. These people are "self-sustaining," certainly.

A correspondent at Rogue river writes: The mines discovered by Hawkins some time ago are paying even better than at first. Half a dozen tunnels are being run into the hill. All who have reached the old river channel have found large pay. Some pieces weighing as much as ounce each have been found. The miners are just below the mouth of Applegate Creek.

THE TERRITORIES.

Frightened Mormons, instead of sealing any number of new wives, are now carefully concealing the number of wives they have.

One man in Walla Walla Valley has lost five hundred head of sheep. Snow in the mountains surrounding the valley is six feet deep.

There are now thirteen thousand Dakota Indians under missionary influence. Probably the next thing we hear they will be furnishing ammunition.

The Secretary of the Interior says in his report that a contract has been entered into for the survey of the Utah-Idaho line, which survey is now being prosecuted.

Efforts are now being made by the Indian Department to remove the Flatheads and Pen d'Oreilles from their location in Bitter Root Valley, Montana, to the general reservation at Jocko Lake.

The Salt Lake Recipe, alluding to the arrest of the murderers of Dr. Robinson, says: The dark and bloody days of Utah's history have passed, never to return, save as incidents of that period are brought to mind by the arrest and conviction of members of the bloody band of miscreants who, acting under orders of spurious prophets of God, committed the most abominable crimes in the name of religion.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

The Christian Union doubts the efficiency of the tract-distribution system, on the ground that it is neither practically wise nor economical.

The Catholic population of America, is estimated at 5,500,000, with 4,800 priests, worshiping in 4,250 churches and 1,700 chapels and stations.

Methodist churches were built in this country in 1870 at the rate of nearly four to every working day in the year, the number being over twelve hundred.

The Lutheran denomination in this country numbers now about five hundred thousand communicants, under the care of some two thousand two hundred ministers.

The latest denominational statistics give the Baptists in the State of New York 1,741 members, comprising 841 churches, with 752 ordained and 80 unordained preachers.

Spurgeon thinks that a Church Fair is "one of the most legitimate and certainly one of the happiest modes of obtaining money for a good cause, whether religious or otherwise."

A clergyman at Council Bluffs, Iowa, has made a new departure in the matter of "hitching up" folks. He has swept away the old established rules of marrying for a fee, and announces that he shall hereafter marry by weight, charging four cents per pound for the happy pair, and two cents for the bride. The idea is a novel one.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has just decided a case in which it lays down the principle that even the majority of a congregation which withdraws itself from the denomination with which it stood connected cannot lay claim to any part of the church property as against the minority that remains under the authority of the church.

Rival Colorado Towns.

An interesting colonial experiment has been inaugurated in Colorado, which cannot fail in a few years to give some valuable testimony as to the effect on States and communities of free liquor traffic. The towns of Greeley and Evans, which are in some measure the capitals of real colonies started by people of different casts of thought, habit and prejudice, are only four miles apart, on the Denver Pacific railroad. They are absolutely equal, so far as natural advantages are concerned, and their communication with commercial centers, as well as their opportunities for monopolizing and improving their country, are very nearly, perhaps quite, the same. Both towns have been exceptionally lucky in their start; they brim over with prosperity, their streets are large and handsome, trade of the best class comes in a steady stream, and all goes merry as a marriage bell.

There is, however, a radical difference in the internal policy of the two towns and the colonies which they represent. The Greeley colony founders started on the basis that intemperance was a crime, and resolved not to have it in their midst. They made temperance a prerequisite to membership, and do not allow the sale or manufacture of liquor anywhere within their borders. The other colony, the "St. Louis Western," goes on the freest basis of "free rum," and is willing that any man who desires to sell or manufacture ardent spirits in any part of the colony should do so. A billiard room in Greeley is considered quite an abomination; in Evans it is the fashionable place of reunion. In Greeley the spirit of the people is Puritan, abstinent; in Evans, cosmopolitan, indulgent. Both towns are entered in the race of progress, and it will be curious and beneficial to watch their social and material progress, and to note carefully the manner in which the presence and absence of intoxicating liquors affect respectively the two offshoots of different beliefs.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

The following, from the report of the Secretary of the Interior, will be of general interest in this locality:

Stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to the amount of $100,000,000 has been subscribed, of which $2,241,600 has been paid. The expenses of the company to June 30, 1871, were as follows: Surveys, $479,603 11; construction, $4,065,315 45; rolling stock, $289,634; general expenses, 112,318 83; total, $4,966,871 39. The indebtedness of the company to that date is as follows: First mortgage bonds issued, $7,241,900; bills payable for material in transitu, etc., $1,465,116 87; due contractors, $178,746 84; total, $9,089,763 71. A map of the Minnesota division, filed in this Department on the 18th inst., shows the line so far as then located and completed, beginning at its junction with the Lake Superior and Mississippi road, near the Dalles of the St. Louis river, in Carlton county; thence running in a nearly westward course to Sandy river; thence in a general southwesterly direction to the crossing of the Mississippi river at Brainard, in Crow Wing county; thence in a nearly westward course to the crossing of the Crow river; thence in a general northwesterly course to the crossing of the Buffalo river, in Clay county, and thence in a nearly westerly course to the Red river, a few miles from Georgetown, Minnesota; a distance of 228.3 miles. Three lines have been surveyed in Dakota. The one extending from the point where the forty-seventh parallel of latitude crosses the Red river, and thence in a general westerly direction to the mouth of Heart river, Dakota, has been adopted as the line of location, and has been put under contract. The work on it is being vigorously prosecuted, the contractors binding themselves to have the line completed to the Missouri by the 1st of July next. A preliminary line has also been run from the mouth of Heart river, in a nearly westerly direction, to the Yellowstone, and from this latter point to Bozeman's Pass; and from thence several lines have been run, passing by the various passes of the Rocky Mountains through the Columbia river. On the Pacific coast lines have been run testing all the passes through the Cascade range between the Columbia river and the boundary line. The line from Portland to Puget's Sound has been located, following the valley of the Columbia river from Portland to Kalama, crossing the river at that point; thence following the Cowlitz river to the mouth of the Skookumchuck river, Washington Territory; from thence several lines have been surveyed, extending on both the eastern and western sides of the Sound. Upon the lines, as located, the work of construction has been commenced, and twenty-five miles will be completed and in operation by the 1st of January next, as required by the company's charter.

Senator Kelly's View.

The following significant article is from the Jacksonville Times, the Democratic organ of Southern Oregon:

On our first page we publish an article from the Sacramento Reporter, under the above head. We laid down the article with "the questions, Is there not something terribly enervating to a Democrat in the atmosphere of Washington? Is there not some kind of influence emanating from New York and Washington Democratic politicians which tends to soften the hide bone of Oregon Democrats whenever they come in contact with it? It will be remembered that soon after the dead and buried heresy of the "New Departure" was promulgated, both Senator Kelly and Representative Slater were hailed as converts, and although as regards the former gentleman, it was soon after denied, yet it required a trip back to this State, and several months' residence here, before the latter recovered backbone enough to renounce the bauble. Now comes "Passivism." God help us! and Senator Kelly (if the Reporter's article is to be believed) favors the new doctrine of non-action, and is only persuaded from endorsing it as avowed advocate by the expediency and the fear that if it is adopted by the Democracy of the Pacific Oregon Democrats would let the elections go by default. We believe his fears are well founded. If the treacherous politicians of the East perpetrate the fraud they meditate, upon the rank and file of the party, they will find not only apathy in Oregon, but in every State in the Union. The California election ought to warn these men, but it seems they never learn anything. We deeply regret that Senator Kelly has placed himself in sympathy with the "Passivists," if he really committed this fault, which we are not disposed to believe, until other proof is added than the Reporter's article. But if he has, he is not representing the party who placed him in his present exalted position, that's certain. The Democracy of Oregon are not "Passivists" in any sense, but believe in that earnest and hearty concerted action which is inevitably crowned with success.

Much Married.

The Statesman prints the following, which it styles another Enoch Arden case:

There are many strange things in this world of ours, but the strangest thing that has happened, of which we have recollection, occurred a short time since over in Polk. A little more than three years ago a "courtship was started up" between a young couple of that county, which resulted in what was supposed to be a union for life. The maiden was handsome and refined, and had won all the wealth of a heart's first love. Yes, the two were wedded in the holiest matrimony, and for a time this little earth of ours, was, to them a perfect paradise. But, alas! for human expectation! To-day the full tide of prosperity may bear us gently along, and to-morrow our fest may be caused to tread the dark, cheerless wildwood of misery and discontent. All this was experienced by the hero of our story. The two had been married but a few months when a difficulty arose, the nature of which is not necessary to be told, and a separation ensued. They mutually agreed that they had lived together as long as they ever could, as they were "pints" upon which they failed to agree. He immediately left for the Eastern States, and she took up her abode with a relation. Nothing was heard of him for a year or more, when his wife received a letter stating that her husband was dead. This letter is supposed to have been written by the lady of the house where he was boarding. Regarding the marital ties dissolved, she again considered herself free. Shortly she made the acquaintance of another, and, as circumstances were favorable, in due time they were married, and soon after were living in a comfortable home. The interesting part of the story just begins. Her husband was not dead; the letter was written for an evil purpose, which was accomplished. Soon after her second marriage her first husband returned to Polk county, and was seen riding through his old neighborhood, though he did not stop. She was greatly agitated thereby, as he meant that she should be. The then double-mated lady was returned by her second husband to her parents and as a woman is entitled to but one husband, under the laws of Oregon, she was still the lawful wife of the first. She immediately rode to Dallas, applied for a divorce and the same was granted at the next sitting of the Court. About a month ago she was re

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 30, 1871.

An Analysis for the "Herald."

In an eager attempt to save itself from being thought utterly ridiculous on a subject which has furnished it in time of need with fapdoodle for many editorials, now again comes the Herald with another article on the expenditures of Multnomah county. And after the thing is strained once more through hard-bound brains it appears in this form:

And why not be entirely candid and admit the whole truth—admit that the facts show that from the apparent expenses of 1870 should be deducted near $5,000 paid on account of the McAlla judgment, and that this would leave the expenses of that year only about $40,000. You admit that the expenses of 1871 are upwards of $54,000; so that the real difference, in the two years, is about $14,000. This is fair; this is the honest difference. Why not admit it? What do you expect to gain by denying the record?

We append the figures, for your information, as taken from the books of the county, deducting the McAlla judgment for 1870:

Expenses of Multnomah county:
1871	$54,475 32
1870	40,638 48
Difference	$13,838 84

So, you see, the difference in the expenses of the two years falls a little under $14,000; but we will say, in round numbers, $14,000, for the sake of convenience. Now be entirely candid and admit the whole truth, and there will be no further need for debate on this point. It is entirely legitimate for you to show for what these extra $14,000 were expended; but it is not legitimate for you to deny the main fact, and try to make it appear that $14,000 only mean $8,000.

This is addressed to the OREGONIAN. We have quoted it at length, as it is evidently a final desperate effort on the part of the "organ" to diversify the form of an utterly unfounded accusation of "fraud," "corruption" and "theft," against the present administration of Multnomah county.

It is said that from the expenses of 1870 (Democratic year) the McAlla judgment, amounting to near $5,000 should be deducted. This was a judgment obtained against the county for damages sustained by a person who fell through a bridge, that it was the duty of the county to keep in repair. And we are told that after deducting this, the difference between the expenditures of 1870 and 1871 is near $14,000, which sum it is virtually alleged has been "stolen" by the present county administration.

The reasoning by which this result is arrived at is charming, indeed. Since the judgments obtained against the county in 1870 are to be deducted from the expenditures, let us see what should be deducted, on the same principle, from the expenditures of 1871. Looking over the list of expenditures for the two years, respectively, which was published by the Herald the other day we find this:

Litigation & judgments, 1870, $4,883 70; 1871, $781 68.

Now it will be perceived that the Herald, with an impartiality that is as original as striking, deducts the judgments of 1870 from the expenses of that year, but does not deduct those of 1871. If they should be deducted from one year, of course they should from the other. Hence we have, on the Herald's reasoning, $731 68 in this item to subtract from the expenses of 1871.

Again, the present county authorities thought it would be better economy to expend a liberal sum of money in building and repairing bridges than to allow them to remain in such a condition that people would fall through them and obtain heavy damages against the county. Therefore they have expended, in 1871, $2,300 14 on roads and bridges, against $740 36 expended by the Democratic authorities in 1870. Here is a difference of $1,559 78 which, on the Herald's reasoning, should be deducted from the expenses of 1871.

Further, the cost of the administration of justice in the county, owing to the increase of business in the Circuit Court, and the larger number of criminals, was $9,039 33 more in 1871 than in 1870. Will the Herald assert that the officials have created this increase of business in Court, and consequent increase of expenditure? It will not, however, assert this in a direct way, for that would be quite too idiotic. But it does so by indirection and by insinuation, which is nearly the same thing.

Now, since the cost of the administration of justice in the county has been $9,039 33 more in 1871 (Republican year) than it was in 1870 (Democratic year), and since this increase of expenditure is something which the Democratic party could not in any way prevent, it follows that this item is like the McAlla judgment which the Herald insists should be deducted from the expenditures of 1870, in that it was not in the power of the county authorities to avert it. Therefore on the Herald's reasoning, we have this sum of $9,039 33 to be deducted from the expenditures of 1871.

Still further, the cost of keeping paupers, resulting from the increase of their number, was $2,388 18 more in 1871 than in 1870. For this increase of paupers the county administration is as little responsible as for the increasing business in the Circuit Court, and still less responsible than the former administration was for the McAlla judgment. It follows therefore again, on the Herald's mode of argument, that this further sum of $2,388 18 is to be deducted from the expenditures of 1871.

For new furniture, required for the use of the county, $990 99 was paid in 1871. Nothing was paid for furniture in 1870. This furniture was needed, was purchased at the lowest price at which a good article could be obtained, and of course still belongs to the county. Here is $990 99 more to be deducted, since the Herald has shown us how the thing is done.

For capture of criminals $1,119 91 was paid in 1871, and nothing in 1870. People who remember the terror inspired here by the operations of the band of robbers that infested the roads leading to and from the city will agree that this money, which was paid as rewards for the capture of members of the gang, was well expended. We have therefore this further deduction to make from the ordinary expenditures of 1871.

Columbia county owes Multnomah about $1,100 for expense incurred here in behalf of that county, which will soon be repaid. This sum is included in the expenses of Multnomah for 1871; and, of course, as this county is to be reimbursed, we have this further sum of $1,100 to deduct.

Let us now recapitulate. Here are the sums to be deducted from the ordinary expenditures of the county for the year 1871, according to the Herald's method:

Litigations and judgments	$ 731 68
Roads and bridges	1,559 78
Circuit Court and keeping prisoners	9,039 33
Keeping paupers	2,388 18
Street improvements	845 56
Furniture	990 99
Capture of criminals	1,119 91
Due from Columbia county	1,100 00
Total	$17,276 33

Here, then, is the amount, which on the Herald's principles, should be deducted from the expenditures of 1871. From $54,475 32 take $17,276 37, and there is left $37,198 95 for 1871, against $40,638 48, which last sum is the amount to which the expenditures of 1870 are figured down by the Herald.

And now, since that paper has professed to talk with so much candor in the extract which we have quoted from it, will it have real candor to point out for what item of additional expenditure in 1871, as compared with 1870, the present county administration should be censured? It has not yet done this, but has absurdly talked in a general way of "frauds," "corruption," "mismanagement," and a "Tammany Ring." There are the items in the above statement; roads and bridges, Circuit Court, paupers, street improvements, capture of criminals, etc., which much more than account for the increase of expenditure of which that paper has pretended to complain. Which of the items show "fraud" on the part of the county administration? Which of them is "corrupt?" Which of them is in any way improper? Which of them is an expenditure that ought not to have been made? There has been a great deal of loose writing in the Herald on this subject. Let it now come to the point. We undertake to say that the county records show honest and capable management of the county finances. From the statements which have been published, the people are well convinced of it. Only fools or knaves would try to mislead an intelligent public on so plain subject.

The Sheeted Dead.

There is news for Oregon readers. Senator Kelly is heard from. It is like a voice from the sheeted dead. For in popular estimation he has for more than a year been quite as dead as Julius Cæsar and more so than Hamlet's father's ghost. A correspondent of the New York World has interviewed him, and finds him inclined to "passivism." This is not wonderful, in view of his political decease and sepulture. He naturally wants to rest, and perceives how obviously improper it would be for him to burst his cerements and revisit the glimpses of the moon. Hence he desires to be "passive." The World's correspondent finds him saying that he believes in the passive policy, and is ready to accept Judge Davis or Senator Trumbull as a candidate for President. The Sacramento Reporter (Dem.) says Kelly's "views are noteworthy as disclosing an acknowledged variance between his own position and that of his party." We don't see that there is much difference between their positions. Both he and his party have gone into that enormous, pure-funding tomb, which engulfs all things that have had their day. Kelly, knowing that he is politically dead, perceives the impropriety of stalking about and acting like those ghosts who—

Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets.

But his party have not yet all accepted the inevitable; and, though as effectually laid out as he is, refuse like him to lie decently still.

The Weather.

The heavy rain of yesterday and last night, falling upon several inches of snow throughout the Wallamet valley, is a warning to look out for a rapid rise in the Wallamet river and tributary streams. The indications point to the probability of higher water than for several years; but as the rain is not a very warm one, no great flood like that of December, 1861, is probable. Considerable grain is still in store along the river, and some of it may be endangered.

Advices from Walla Walla, received by telegraph from the Dalles, state that during the early part of the present week the temperature went down as low as eleven degrees below zero, an extreme of cold almost without precedent. The cold was so intense that many cattle and sheep were perishing. Snow was two feet deep. It seems probable that throughout the whole region east of the Cascade mountains the weather has been more severe than for a number of years, and news of considerable loss of live stock may be expected.

A dispatch from Yreka, dated 29th, states that rain was still falling at that point, and that the streams south of there were all very high. No stages had reached Yreka for three days, and it was impossible to get the telegraph in working order to Sacramento.

Public Lands.

It is shown by the report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office that the lands disposed of by the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871, amounted to 10,606,792 acres, an increased disposal, as compared with the preceding year, of 2,611,378 acres.

Of these lands 1,389,982 acres were sold for cash; 4,600,326 acres were taken under homestead entries, and 2,011,938 acres were approved to railroads. The cash receipts of the General Land Office for the year were nearly three million dollars.

The Commissioner thinks it questionable whether the pre-emption law, as now administered, is any longer a necessity to our public land system. He deems the homestead act sufficient and recommends the repeal of the pre-emption act, as a measure for the unification of our land laws.

Some time ago the "organ" was attempting to argue that the General Government was expending seven or eight hundred million dollars a year. It persisted in this stupid assertion for a long time, till one day we took the pains to show it plainly its own blundering folly. Since then it has given up the subject, and repeats its ridiculous assertion no more. But for a month past it has been trying to make somebody believe that the officials of Multnomah county have stolen or fraudulently expended $14,000 during the last fiscal year. To-day we show by an analysis, which even unscandal dullness cannot fail to understand, what has been the cause of increased expenditure in this county in 1871, as compared with 1870. And now, as the "organ" cannot point out in a single one of the items anything like the extravagance, fraud or corruption, which it has been alleging and bowling about, it will do well to drop the subject as it did that of Government expenditures on which it made itself so utterly ridiculous.

The yearly mortality of the globe is 33,333,333. This is at the rate of 91,554 per day or 3,830 per hour or 62 per minute.

On Tuesday last there arrived in this city, by the Oregon and California Railroad two men from Long Tom with hair come all the way here to purchase suits of clothing from J. O'Neil & Co. They had been reading the OREGONIAN, and found that O'Neil & Co. were selling goods cheap; consequently they journeyed hitherward. O'Neil & Co. supplied them with the articles, under clothes, neck-ties and other articles, the parties being satisfied that O'Neil & Co. did the handsome thing with their customers. Go then and do likewise, at O'Neil & Co.'s, 95 Front street.

The market at the present time is fairly glutted with ready made clothing but the great difficulty is to obtain a really good and at the same time cheap article. A visit to that old and widely known establishment of Hohn & Bisbee's, 91 Front street, easily supplies the deficiency. They have an immense stock of Clothing for all kinds of weather besides other goods for gentlemen and boys.

SATTRDAY MORNING, DEC. 30, 1871.

CITY.

POLICE MATTERS.—At the special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, on Thursday evening, the watches of policemen were arranged as follows: Four watches of six hours each. First watch to commence at four o'clock A. M.; second, at ten o'clock A. M.; third, at four o'clock P. M., and fourth at ten o'clock P. M. The force was divided into three squads or watches. D. Walton and C. F. Schoppe, appointed temporarily on the police force were continued. E. P. Collins and Thos. Gale were elected as additional policemen, commissions to begin Jan. 1st. A. B. Brannon was elected second Captain of watch. The policemen were allotted to districts as follows: First District—Comprising all that portion of the city lying north of Oak street: Officers Kelly, Hudson and Schoppe. Second District—Comprising all that portion of the city lying between Oak and Taylor streets: Officers Ward, Collins and Norton. Third District—Comprising all that portion of the city lying south of Taylor street: Officers Burke, Walton and Gale.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Bulletin learns from a gentleman who reached Portland from Kalama on Wednesday night that the first twenty-five miles of the Northern Pacific Railroad will be completed Saturday night. On Tuesday morning there were two miles of track to lay, and with the force engaged in track-laying only a little over one quarter of a mile per day could be laid. The locomotives brought up by the bark Rival had been placed on the track, as also had the passenger coaches manufactured for the road by the Oregon and California Railroad at their machine shops. It is thought that the trains will commence running to the end of the road by the 10th of January, when passengers for Olympia will be transferred from Kalama to Pamphrey's Landing in about an hour and a half instead of being compelled to make the long, tedious journey via the Cowlitz river and Monticello. This will shorten the time between Portland and Olympia several hours.

THE SCHOOLMASTER ABROAD.—A day or two since the Police Judge received a note dated at the city jail, the writer stating that he was detained in that institution by circumstances over which he regretted to say, he had no control. That his school would open again in a day or two, and that, to be prepared for that event, it was necessary for him to make some immediate preparations, which he would candidly say he could not conveniently make in the city jail. He therefore proposed to the Judge a compromise by which he (the schoolmaster) should be allowed to evacuate the premises, the Judge to have the reward of an approving conscience which always attends upon the doing of a good act. The Judge took the matter under advisement for a day or two; meantime the schoolmaster's engagement at the city jail expired by limitation of statute, and he has fled—whither, oh! whither, we cannot tell. The conundrum is, which of the schoolmasters was it?

A VERY SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. Joseph Legrand, of A. Legrand & Bro., met with a very serious accident last evening. He had climbed upon a step ladder to assist in putting a stove pipe in place, when his support gave way and he was precipitated to the floor, breaking his left arm and one or more ribs, and receiving other severe injuries. He was taken to his residence, corner of E and Seventh streets, and medical aid was summoned, no less than four physicians being called to the case. At our last reports it was not possible to tell how serious his injuries are, but he was bleeding at the mouth, and it was feared that he had received internal hurt.

ODD FELLOWS' ELECTION.—At a regular meeting of Rassalo Lodge No. 15, I. O. O. F., held last evening, the following officers to serve the ensuing term were elected: Joseph Buchtel, N. G.; Charles W. Parrish, V. G.; C. P. Crandall, R. S.; A. G. Walling, Treasurer; Thomas H. Crawford, A. J. Marshall and J. W. Whalley, Trustees.

Samaritan Lodge No. 2 held its election on Wednesday evening with the following result: D. E. Eschanan, N. G.; Urban E. Hicks, V. G.; William McCabe, R. S.; Joseph Kohn, Treasurer; E. St. John, William Braden and C. C. Phillips, Trustees.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.—Rev. Mr. Joyslin will preach at the Hall street M. E. Church tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be services in the Norwegian language, at Rev. Mr. Fridrichsen's church, East Portland, at 11 o'clock A. M., on New Year's Day. Services in English at 2 P. M. on Sunday.

We are informed that the Methodist congregation will have their usual watch meeting to-morrow night—to watch and pray the old year out and the new one in.

OUT TODAY.—We have received a copy of "The Train Ligue," a small paper published semi-monthly at Omaha, and devoted to the vagaries of the champion fool of the age—George Francis Train. It is stuffed with such explanations as "Down with Kings!" "God save the People!" "Smash the Ring!" "Don't fail to shake hands with the Man of Destiny!" "Editor-in-Chief—the People!" and similar nonsense all of which proves that the fool-killer has not yet visited Omaha.

HELD TO ANSWER.—"China Joe" had an examination yesterday before Judge Denny on the charge of grand larceny—stealing a watch, some opium and gold dust to the value of over $200, from another Chinaman. The testimony showed that Joe got the property tied up in a bundle and then bowed his way out of the house with a sword which he flourished around his head in the usual heroic style. Judge Denny held him to answer.

A SANITARY EFFORT SPOILED.—C. Duffy has gone to jail for forty days, because he could'nt get away with a pair of gum boots which he had nipped from East & Rich ard's store. Duffy was going for dry feet, for sanitary considerations. Well he can keep them dry for forty days and nights in the jail, and the storm may be over when he gets out.

FOR VANCOUVER.—The steamer Vancouver will leave her wharf at this city, at 10:30 o'clock, A. M., to-day, and will make the attempt to reach Vancouver. At the latest reports, the ice was still gorged about three miles above the mouth of the Willamette. But Capt. Troup hopes to be able to break it up.

CONCERT ON THE TAPIS.—We learn that several persons of the Catholic congregation are preparing to give a concert within the next few weeks. The first rehearsal has been held, to which a number of the best vocalists of the city participated.

ICE IN THE WALLAMET.—Yesterday, there was considerable thin or slush ice running in the Wallamet river, which had been broken loose from the shore by the thaw. There was not enough however to obstruct navigation.

AN INSANE PATIENT.—Watkinds brought down yesterday from Salem an insane man named Anderson. He was sent to the penitentiary from Baker county, about a month ago for horse stealing.

TOOK WATER IN HIS'N.—A man while under the influence of liquor, in attempting to get on board the Oriflamme, yesterday morning, fell overboard, and was rescued with much difficulty.

PASSENGER LISTS.—No passenger lists were given to the press yesterday upon the sailing of the steamers. There were but few passengers on either of the steamers.

DOWN THE RIVER.—The steamer Dixie Thompson will leave for Astoria at six o'clock and the Rescue for Monticello at half-past seven o'clock this morning.

ELECTION OF LIBRARY OFFICERS.—The Catholic Library Association will hold its annual election to-morrow from 2 till 6 o'clock P. M.

SAILED.—The steamship Oriflamme sailed yesterday afternoon for San Francisco. She took an average freight and a few passengers.

FOR PUGET SOUND.—The steamer California sailed yesterday afternoon for Puget Sound and Victoria.

A FALSE "CAUTION."

THE FALSE STATEMENTS OF A SHIP MASTER EXPECTED.

We find the following in the Liverpool Telegraph and Daily Shipping and Commercial Gazette of Nov. 18th:

"CAUTION.—I would advise all ship-owners and ship-masters not to accept any business that will take their vessels to Portland, Oregon, unless such business is very remunerative, as the boarding-house nuisance is carried on there to an unparalleled extent. No vessel can get a crew there unless most outrageous high wages are paid. The British ship Prince of Wales had to pay $500 gold per man from that place to Cork, for orders, the men being sent from Victoria to Portland by steamer, expenses paid. I had to get my men from San Francisco, at the risk of their deserting before I was able to get to sea, they having had two months' advances, which, of course, the boarding-master took, and their expenses paid. Crews are sure to desert from vessels there, if there is a possibility of getting on shore. Boarding-masters take care to keep the men in debt by giving them work one day and let them idle the next, thereby keeping their houses full of boarders all the time, and their earnings will go to the boarding-masters, who grow rich and the sailors poor. H. C. BORSTEL, Master of the ship Panama."

"H. C. Borstel, Master of the ship Panama," is a man who was here to command of a ship, a few months ago. If he had uttered the above slanders in any port nearly connected with ours, they could not have needed any reply or refutation. As it is, we need only to make a plain statement of facts to refute all that the slanderer has been pleased to say. In the first place, there is no more trouble in this port than in any other about the desertion of seamen from vessels calling in; nor is there any such "boarding-house nuisance" here as is complained of. There has not been, for several years, any trouble about engaging seamen for vessels commanded by men of average humanity. Here, as elsewhere, seamen are not willing to ship with brutes. In the case of the ship Panama, there are plenty of witnesses to testify to the fact that the seamen were driven from the ship by systematic, persistent brutality and starvation. They would have deserted, all the same, in any other port, or even upon a barren and desolate shore. When the captain finally got ready to go to sea, a crew of men was engaged for him by Messrs. Stevenson & Clark, Shipping Agents, but they finally declined to go with him on account of the threats he made in relation to the manner in which he would treat sailors hereafter. Even after this he could have got plenty of men for $30 per month for the voyage. He preferred to send to San Francisco, where he got a crew for $25 per month, with passage paid from San Francisco to Portland. The captain delayed his departure, for reasons of his own, till long after the time he might have sailed, and the men engaged being still on shore and paying their own board, were certainly the only parties entitled to complain. In the case of the ship Prince of Wales, a crew was engaged by the firm above named, at $35 per month. Some of them went on board the morning of the day named for sailing and because they were not all present, the captain refused to take any; and then, when not less than forty sailors could have been hired at $35 to $40 per month, he telegraphed to Victoria that he could not get men here at any price. Men were, accordingly, sent from Victoria at $30 for the voyage, with passage paid from Victoria to Portland by steamer. At the highest price asked by seamen a crew could have been shipped here at a half-day's notice, costing not over $200 per man for the voyage. It is false, that men are sure to desert here, if allowed to go on shore. Of the many vessels plying from this port, or sailing in here, the crews of none have deserted, except from such as had masters too brutal to keep men in any port. Captains of ordinary business capacity and fidelity to their owners, and of average humanity, have not had, nor will they have, any trouble in this port about keeping their own seamen or shipping new men when wanted.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

CHRONIC DISEASES.—The various forms of chronic disease are treated successfully by Dr. Aborn, cor. Third and Morrison streets.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—On Wednesday, January 10th, the stockholders of the Oregon Iron Works will hold their annual meeting for the election of Directors.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.—At one o'clock this afternoon, Oscar Kilbourn, auctioneer, will sell for Levi Anderson, Guardian for the minor heirs of Patrick Raleigh, several lots and parcels in Raleigh's Addition to the city of Portland. The sale will take place at the Court House door.

A man who had skated away from a companion under whom the ice had broken, instead of trying to save him, excused himself afterwards by saying that it then flashed upon him that he had omitted to renew his Life Insurance, and that the thought of his wife and children in distress had made a coward of him. If he had been insured in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Boston, Mass., the family would have been provided for and another heroic man heralded to the world. That Company works under a law that prevents forfeiture, if payment is not made when due. Insure. Protect every interest. Joseph Middlemiss is the Superintendent of Agencies. Office—8 Front street, Central Block, and invites applications personally or by correspondence.

REMARKABLE CURES.

Dr. Aborn, cor. Third and Morrison streets, is still meeting with great success. The most desponding cases have been cured by the Doctor.

On Monday we have New Years day—the last of the holiday season. Some of the children have been forgotten; your exchequer is low—but there is yet a chance, and that is at Stone's, where any person of limited means can buy. Read his notices.

As S. L. Stone is closing out at cost his fancy goods, toys and willow ware, this is the last chance to buy cheap

Work of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.

THE LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

DEAR SIR—In answer to the appeal, kindly published by you, in behalf of the Ladies' Relief Society, I received, yesterday, Twelve Hundred Dollars, from three individuals, two subscribing $500 each. We wish to record such generosity, partly to show the endorsement this plan is having, but chiefly as another indication of the fact that large views of the size of prosperity are being taken by our people. The example of these kind friends is an education to us all in the "art of giving."

With such encouragement we again urge this cause upon the community. We hope for more such responses as these already made. Subscriptions (of any amount) may be handed to any member of the Society or Board of Trustees.

T. L. ELIOT, Secretary.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—The drama of "The Long Strike" was repeated last evening to a good house, and was produced even better than on the preceding evening. To-night the sensational drama of "Under the Spell, or St. Patrick's Eve," will be put on, with Mr. Waldron in the character of Terrence, and Mrs. Waldron as Kathleen. The performance will conclude with the laughable comedy of "The Rough Diamond," Mr. Barry in his great character of Josiah Joe, and Mrs. W. in the character of Margery. The Long Strike will be played at the 2 o'clock matinee, the admission to which is only fifty cents.

DANCING PARTY.—The Willamette Hose Co's New Year's Eve party, at Armory Hall, was well attended last evening. The affair was well managed and the guests enjoyed themselves highly. The Hose boys are coming to the front.

STYLES FOR PRESENTS.—Gilt Parlor Furniture! Easy Chairs in great variety; Bouquet Stands, Card Receivers, Wall Pockets, Pinkhead in Gilt, Walnut, Ebony, Wax and Marquestry. Call and see the Woven Wire Mattress at BURGREN & SHINDLER'S.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1872, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States, and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, is now published and ready for delivery. In the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages, all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the wise suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for each meridian and latitude as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, use, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative, of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in their neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the civilized world.

NEW YORK
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!
PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS.....$17,000,000!
ISSUED 9,925 POLICIES IN 1870.
Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS, Vice President and Actuary. MORRIS FRANKLIN, President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st. PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a quarter of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning large dividends to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered an incidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter; others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In the Company a party pays his dividend which can be used in the payment of the second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. THE DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. Those dividends can remain with the Company, participating in its earnings, and be used at any subsequent period in the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES. Experience has shown that cases arise where policies, although technically valid claims, are not LEGALLY so. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgements from widows and relatives of deceased members of its liberality and fairness in settlement of all such losses. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policy-holders cannot possibly arise, the Trustees simply occupying the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to take from one and give to another.

The Closing Scene.

[The following poem was written by Thomas Buchanan Read, the American poet and painter, while he was residing at Rome. It has a great deal of the pathos and grandeur of Gray's immortal elegy. It is beyond doubt the finest of Mr. Read's productions, and has been styled by the London Quarterly, the finest poem written by any American author. "It is a poem peculiarly fit for the closing days of the departing year."]

Within his sober realm of leafless trees
The russet Year inhaled the dreamy air;
Like some tanned reaper in his hour of ease,
When all the fields are lying brown and bare.

The gray barns looking from their hazy hills
O'er the dim waters widening in the vales;
Sent down the air a greeting to the mills,
On the dull thunder of alternate flails.

All sights were mellowed and all sounds subdued,
The hills seemed farther and the streams sang low;
As in a dream the distant woodchopper hewed
His winter log with many a muffled blow.

The embattled forests, erewhile armed in gold,
Their banners bright with every martial hue,
Now stood, like some sad beaten host of old,
Withdrawn afar in Time's remotest blue.

On sombrous wings the vultures held their flight;
And all the scavenger birds came flocking in;
And like a star slow drowning in the light,
The village church-vane seemed to pale and faint.

The sentinel-cock upon the hill-side crew—
Crew thrice, and all was stiller than before,—
Silent, till some replying warder blew
His silver horn, and then was heard no more.

Where erst the jay, within the elm's tall crest,
Made garrison, would scramble round her nest and peak and pry,
And where the oriole hung her swaying nest,
By every light wind like a censer swung:—

Where, sang the noisy masons of the eaves,
The busy swallows, circling ever near,
Foreboding, as the rustic mind believes,
An early harvest and a plenteous year;—

Where every bird which charmed the vernal feast
Shook the sweet slumber from the wings at morn,
To warn the reaper of the early east,—
All these were songless, empty, and forlorn.

Alone from out the stubble piped the quail,
And croaked the crow through all the dreamy gloom;
Along the pheasant, drumming to his mate,
Made echo to the distant cottage loom.

There was no bud, no bloom upon the bowers;
The spiders wove their webs through night by night;
The thistle-down, the only ghost of flowers,
Sailed slowly by, passed into naught—out of sight.

Amid all this, in this most cheerless air,
And where the woodbine shed upon the porch
Its crimson leaves, as if the Year stood there
Firing the floor with his inverted torch;—

Amid all this, the centre of the scene,
The white-haired matron, with monotonous tread,
Plied the soft wheel; and with her joyless mien,
Sat, like a Fate, and watched the flying thread.

She had known Sorrow,—he had walked with her,
Oft supped and broke the bitter ashen crust,
And in the fixed leaves still she heard the stir
Of his black wings mantling in the dust.

While yet her cheek was bright with summer bloom,
Her country summoned—and she gave her all;
And twice War bowed to her his sable plume—
Regave the sword to rust upon her wall.

Regave the sword,—but not the hand that drew
And struck for Liberty its dying blow,
Nor him who, to his sire and country true,
Fell 'mid the ranks of the low-lying foe.

Long, but not loud, the droning wheel went on,
Like the low murmur of a distant mourner—
Long, but not loud, the mystery of the grief
That feeds through her lips a sad and tremulous tune.

At last the thread was snapped—her head was bowed;
Life dropped the distaff through his hands serene,—
And loving neighbors smoothed her careful shroud,
While Death and Winter closed the autumn scene.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, Dec. 23th 1871.

Gold in New York 108¾.

Portland Legal Tenders quote three 90's buyings 92½ selling.

The steamer Oriflamme cleared with a full cargo of produce for San Francisco to-day.

The steamer California cleared to-day for Victoria and Sound ports.

The bark Wildfoot will clear to-morrow for San Francisco and will probably be towed to Astoria on Monday.

The brig Brewster hence for San Francisco crossed the bar Dec. 20th.

The Dixie Thompson will commence running regularly to Astoria to-morrow, and without another interruption.

The Emma Hayward will resume her regular trips to the Cascades on Monday, January 1, 1872.

The schooner Wm. Taylor has not been towed to Astoria yet, but will be this early part of next week.

The steamer Annie Stevens will resume regular trips to Montevallo to-morrow.

The bark Caroline took on a full cargo for Victoria and Puget ports. As will be seen by her export manifest, as given below, that the trade in Groceries with the Sound ports shows a most gratifying increase and Oregon leads far ahead of Portland in her trade with these ports. The fact is that Portland merchants prefer this market to which to make to a great extent their purchases, as their experience for the past few days has shown them that they can do better here than in Portland.

Reports from different parts of Oregon state that if the season of the year experienced for the past few days has been very disastrously to many farmers. Three months ago we called the attention of farmers to the necessity of preparing for a hard winter, which may occur any year. Although the cold weather has lasted only a few days (it is not to late to say so as yet by any means yet) it has been severe enough to warn farmers in the future to protect before hand their stock and not allow them to suffer.

At the time of the great fire in Chicago there were four of the local Fire Insurance Companies of San Francisco doing business there, viz: the Pacific, People's, Occidental and Union, all of which had to discontinue business except the Union. In an editorial in the San Francisco Coast Review, a journal devoted exclusively to Fire, Marine and Life Insurance, the Union is thus referred to, and although the language is very forcible, still we have no doubt but it will be read by many of our citizens with great interest:

"It will doubtless be gratifying to every citizen of our State to know, that we have at least one local company in San Francisco which means to preserve its former reputation for honesty and liberality, and to save the State from the stigma of having given birth to corporations of 'self-developed and self-sustained' name forms only, that they might mislead and deceive an admiring public. We refer to the praiseworthy course of the Union Insurance Company, in paying up promptly all their Chicago losses, dollar for dollar, as they are adjusted. These losses, which amount to about fifty per cent. be their available assets, are being rapidly paid off, and we think no language adequately strong to express our unqualified admiration of their conduct in the instance. They will need no better advertisement in the future to secure to them patronage and worthy confidence on the part of an honest public, than the simple motto: 'We paid all our losses of Chicago,' printed in gilt letters upon the margin of their flag. Any man who has an honest drop of blood in his veins, must admire them for their courage. As for us, we feel like lifting our hat, out of profound respect, every time we pass by their doors. We extend to them the right hand of fellowship, and shall always be glad to chronicle any future success they may have."

Late advices from the Western States confirm our previous advices of large shipments of Fresh Apples to the Middle States. These shipments have caused estimates of next year's supply of Dried Apples to be placed at about three-quarters of the amount of this year's. This falling off in the supply, together with the increased cost of packing, owing to the higher cost of cooperage, with prices still tending up, virtually cuts off that source of supply from the California market, which will cause prices, under an active demand, ruling in the spring in California, to advance, particularly so now that it is ascertained beyond a doubt that the amount dried in this State will fall short between 30 and 40 per cent. on the amount dried last season. The Chicago Journal of Commerce, under date of Dec. 6th, quotes that market for New York and Michigan Dried Apples, 10@11½c; Ohio, 8@10½c; Southern, new, 8@8½c; Indiana, 7@8c, which will be seen, by re-ering to quotations in San Francisco, viz: 7@8c ₱ lb, are considerably higher.

General Merchandise.

SOAP.—R. Irvine & Co. have stopped boiling, preparatory to making new and extensive improvements. Although the stock of this brand is light, prices have not changed.

DRIED APPLES.—Under liberal receipts with light demand and a large stock, the market is quoted dull at 5@6c ₱ lb, loose, and 6@6½c ₱ lb, packed.

OIL CAKE MEAL.—We are advised by letter from Salem that the Pioneer Oil Works have orders ahead for two weeks. Dealers here have sent below for supplies.

TIN.—The New York Shipping List says that the London market continues to advance, L. & P. being quoted by telegraph 21½£, and Straits 21½£. These advices strengthen holders, who, in the face of a limited demand, have further put up their prices, Straits being held firmly at the close at 33@33½ cents, English 37, and Banca 43.
